How to Submit Artwork

We want your product to look its absolute best. We also want to avoid any delays in production which may be caused by electronic files that are too low in resolution, files that cannot be opened by our art department or other problems that can come up by submitting unacceptable artwork. We have developed this list of artwork submission guidelines to help you get the best possible reproduction of your artwork and photographs.

LOGOS & PHOTOGRAPHS

Many of the imprints require your logo and text to be in line art. Line art refers to graphics or text composed of black against a white background. Line art cannot contain any shades of gray.

LINE ART

GRAYSCALE

File Types we can accept (MAC & PC): Acrobat PDF, EPS, Illustrator AI, Photoshop PSD, JPEG, TIFF, PNG, Word Documents, Excel Files, Powerpoint Files, Quark Documents and IDML/InDesign Documents (both must be collected with images and fonts).

File Types we cannot accept or do not suggest: Publisher, CorelDraw, BMP, GIF.

Photographic (Raster) Files must be at the size of the item or imprint area at 300 dpi. (Example: if the area to hold the image is 8.5" x 11" then it must be at that size at 300 dpi for optimal printing.) Images from the web tend to print poorly unless they are exceptionally large.

Vector Files (preferred for logos and imprints) must be converted to curves or the fonts must be included. Please check your colors for any spot or Pantone colors, as they can lead to additional charges and any alterations made might alter the colors.

Camera Ready PDF Designs should be to scale for their placement, and have the fonts converted to outlines or included. It is highly suggested that fonts and images be included in Camera Ready Designs.

Please name files in accordance with their intended use. Files not named correctly will slow down production time. (Such as logo, JPG, cover, PDF or the names of the months on which the images are to go.)

Bleeds: If you expect your artwork to print to the edge, you must include a bleed. A bleed is where the ink goes slightly past the edge and is cut so the image goes to the edge. If no bleed is included, you will lose a portion of the image from each edge. A 1/8" bleed is recommended on all sides.

The blue area is the bleed, this will be cut off at the red line and only the pink area will remain.

printed area

Please do not flatten layered files. It is preferred that you send both flattened and unflattened in case edits need to be made.

Any time spent by either our designers or our production staff that requires more than reasonable time spent can lead to additional charges. We have templates available so this can be avoided, simply email to ask for a template. The first proof is FREE. Additional proofs resulting from errors not made by our staff may result in a graphics fee.

When submitting material through the mail:

Do's

- DO submit original photos (black and white or color).
- DO submit original artwork or ink drawings.
- DO submit files on disk at a minimum resolution of 300 dpi in TIFF, EPS, PDF or JPEG format at
